

Between Winslow (east)
and Flagstaff (west)

The 1914 Luten Arch Bridge on Canyon Diablo at Two Guns remains in place.

TWO GUNS

Note:
It is possible that the green route stayed with the red route to its crossing of the 1914 Canyon Diablo Bridge.

Alignments on this Map

Green: Original route prior to paving, along which the first incarnation of the Two Guns tourist attraction was located. Much of the early route in this area followed the National Old Trails Road. Proceeding west from Two Guns, the green route likely adopted this path, but it is not a proven US 66 alignment.

Red: First paved alignment.

Orange: Upgrade 2-lane alignment to the red route, inspiring another phase of Two Guns expansion. This occurred only a decade after initial paving, possibly because of the narrow arch bridge on the red route. The orange route, as well as part of the red route here, was later adopted by eastbound I-40.

Ruins of the first Two Guns zoo (arrow above), with the canyon ledge in the foreground.